HE IS RISEN This message which brought joy, hope, courage and power to the early disciples is still the basis for our Easter greetings. The Resurrection of Jesus Christ gives meaning and power to all our other beliefs. It changes a wishful hope of immortality into a sure hope.

The Easter message brings us more than the assurance of life with Christ after death. It opens up to us the possibility of life with Christ here on earth.

We are engaged in a struggle to preserve the way of life, the principles of freedom, justice and righteousness. Victory in this contest is conditioned upon strenuous effort and unlimited sacrifice. If this sacrifice is limited to the preservation of our heritage for ourselves, we cannot expect God's blessing upon us. The supreme sacrifice will fail to confer full and permanent benefits upon one's own country unless it includes in its arms the welfare of the whole world.

Easter is a promise of victory for the cause of righteousness in this world. It teaches that the sacrifice of the loyal follower of Christ is not simply a martyr's protest against a wrong which cannot be remedied here on earth. It is rather a guarantee that the sacrifice of love and loyalty is the sure means by which the Victory of the Right can be attained here on earth.

Christ's final words tie together irretrievably the assurance of power with the responsibility of using it for world-wide betterment. "Ye shall receive power," he said, "unto the uttermost part of the earth."

This is the last of a series of four pre-Easter articles.

Marion Soldier Missing in Action in North Africa

Pfc. Wilbert J. Alexander, 25, of this city, is reported missing in action in the North African area since March 30 according to word received by his wife Mrs. Ruth Eileen Alexander of 2 Cottage street, from the office of the secretary of war. The message sent by Adjutant General Uhl, stated that additional information would be forwarded when received.

Pfc. Alexander, whose 25th birthday anniversary was April 19, left Marion on Oct. 21, 1941, and was inducted into the armed forces at Fort Hayes in Columbus. He received his military training at Camp Wheeler, Ga., and Fort Dix, N. J. After visiting his home in March last year he left the following month for overseas duty in Ireland and Scotland, and landed in North Africa in November last year. His family last heard from him on April 2 when they received a letter dated March 17. Prior to going into service he was employed with the Ohio Blue Limestone Co. for a number of years.

Pfc. Alexander is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Alexander of No. 2 Cottage street, with whom his wife and daughter Carolyn Ella, aged 8 months, are making their home. Mrs. Alexander before her marriage on Aug. 10, 1941, was Miss Ruth Eileen Wilmetts of 544 Avondale avenue. COMMITTEE VOTES PAY-GO TAX BILL
By The Associated Press
WASHINGTON, April 24.—A Democratic-sponsored, pay-as-you-go bill, applying the lower rates and higher personal exemptions of 1941 to 1942 income in order to get on a current tax basis, was approved today by the house ways and means committee.

The action came on voice vote, after the committee, sitting in silence, after the committee, also vocally, had rejected first the Republican-supported modified Ruml skip-a-year plan and another compromise proposed by representative Robertson, Democrat of Virginia.

The committee agreed to bring the measure to the house floor Monday, May 3—the day congress returns from its Easter recess—under an agreement limiting general debate to one day, with a vote coming on the committee plan and its alternatives Tuesday.

Robertson told newsmen the treasury had estimated the committee bill would "remit $4,400,000,000 in taxes on 1942 income under the present rates, leaving approximately $5,600,000,000 of last year's taxes to be paid off."

LEWIS SHUNS WLB MEETING ON MINE WAGES

UMW Chief Stays in New York as Board Calls Washington Parley.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 24.—Neither President John L. Lewis of the United Mine Workers nor any of his associates showed up today in the war labor board for a wage dispute with soft coal operators.

The board assembled for a preliminary hearing with only the operators' representatives. No UMW official had been in attendance as the board began the hearing today. The board announced its purpose of getting a summary statement of the issues and to arrange procedure and timing for conducting the case.

In New York, K. C. Adams, press representative for Lewis, said he was in New York and "has no plans to go to Washington today."

Both the Northern and Southern Appalachian operators groups were represented.

The session got underway against a distant background of mounting coal troubles. At Cleveland, Republic Steel Corp. officials said strikes affecting the firm's western Pennsylvania coal properties had spread to a fourth mine and soon would handicap the walkouts except at one strip mine, where a wage controversy was cited as the cause. They said the company had agreed to requested rates but that UMW workers rejected a stipulation requiring labor-board approval.

Joseph Yablonsky, international board member of UMW's district 5, said in Pittsburgh that even if the WLB "acts" and "approves" the new contract, "things don't look any too good to me now for a settlement."

He said the WLB session here was being watched by miners in many areas and added "I frankly don't believe the men will want to go back until that situation is cleared up."

The board called the meeting to discuss preliminary procedure for taking over the scheduled negotiations. It also planned to pass on Lewis' demands for a 25-cent increase for his 650,000 bituminous workers, portal-to-portal pay within the mines, recognition of the union as the representative of supervisory personnel at the mines as well as the coal-diggers. Lewis had balked at submitting his case to the board, challenging its jurisdiction and opposing the "little steel" formula by which it

BANKS BUSY DURING EXTRA HOUR PERIOD

More Than 2,000 Are Served, Many of Them War Workers.

Marion's three banks were comfortably busy yesterday from 5 to 7 p. m. during the first period of extra-hour business arranged at the request of the Marion Area War Manpower committee in its efforts to curb absenteeism among war workers.

Well over 2,000 persons were served during the two-hour period, and a substantial percentage of the activity was the cashing of war workers' checks. A big percentage of these were cashed by women.

One bank reported approximately two-thirds of its business in the extra period was the cashing of war workers' checks.

Marion's two federal savings and loan associations, the Home and Marion, reported a good response in business on the first night of the new evening opening hours.

The Marion-Reserve Power Co., open during the same extra hours for the first time, reported 67 persons visited its office during the two hours, most of them war workers and a majority of them coming in during the period of 5 to 5:45 p. m.

NAME DIRECTOR OF RECREATION

City Commission Employs Victor Dorris, Harding Coach, as Supervisor.

Appointment of a city recreation supervisor, zoning of city recreation areas and scheduling of a citywide meeting soon to discuss recreation problems were highlights of action taken by the city recreation commission in a meeting last night in the public school administration building on South Prospect street.

Victor Dorris, 30, who is starting his second year as head football coach at Harding high school, was employed by the commission to set up and supervise a recreation program in Marion for about four and a half months this summer, starting sometime May 1 and continuing full-time from the close of school until the start of school next fall.

Centers Designated
Lincoln, Garfield and McKinley parks were designated by the commission as recreation centers for the north, east and south quarters of the city, respectively, and the Marion Steam Shovel Co. athletic field will be the center of the recreation program for the west and southwest part of the city.

In a telephone conversation with Mr. Dorris after the commission approved the appointment of the Harding coach, J. Douglas Torrance, secretary of the commission, learned that he would accept the commission's offer. He was hired for the entire program at a salary of $800.

To Serve at One of Parks
In addition to supervising the entire city program, Mr. Dorris will direct recreation at one of the three parks.

Taking over as football coach at Harding last year following the resignation of William O. "Bill" Williams, Dorris' prep team the Harding team to his "this straight" North Central Ohio league football championship, winning seven of eight games and losing only to Sandusky in a non-league engagement.

Besides handling the head football coaching duties Dorris also has been in charge of the school's physical education program. Climaxing the year's gym program Dorris will present approximately 500 Harding boys and girls in a mass gymnastics demonstration at Harding stadium on May 20.

REACH POINT ONLY 30 MILES FROM BIZERTE

British First Army Also Scores Advance Along Western Front.

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA, April 24.—American troops, transferred from the Western Desert, have reached Bizerte, only 30 miles from the British First Army's main line of advance.

After a week's advance, the British First Army has taken Long Stop Hill, 28 miles west of Tunis, displacing the German forces from the front and taking the city of Bizerte, only 30 miles from the British First Army's main line of advance.

While the Americans pounded forward in the most difficult terrain of all Tunisia and parried violent enemy counterattacks, British First Army armor extended its all-out advance to practically all the axis' western flank by hammering out a gain of six or seven miles in the Guelbabat-Bled Arada sector.

Planes Set Record
Allied air forces bombers and fighters yesterday flew a "record number" of sorties in collaboration with the allied ground thrust, an official statement said.

Despite the fact these sorties numbered 1,500, only six allied aircraft were lost against the diminishing axis opposition.

While the British Eighth Army of Gen. Sir Bernard L. Montgomery engaged in vigorous patrol work which it repelled a local German counterattack on the southern front, the Americans advanced to within 30 miles of Bizerte and continued to maintain pressure against determined enemy resistance.

"American troops made successful attacks, capturing more than 100 prisoners. In several areas advances of many miles were made in difficult hill country," said the communiqué from Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's headquarters.

Elements of the Second U. S. Army corps commanded by Lieut. Gen. George S. Patton Jr., made the transfer along the length of the Tunisian front over several difficult mountain ranges, a statement from the headquarters of Gen. Sir Harold Alexander, allied ground commander, disclosed, and began their attack through the heavy brush covering the mountainsides at the first light of day yesterday.

Hills Captured
Their offensive was directed from both the north and south sides of the road leading from Tabarka to Mateur.

Units north of the road captured the hills Djebel Mraza and Djebel Ain Choura consolidated their positions and held them despite enemy attempts of the axis to dislodge them with the support of artillery.

The doughboys south of the road captured Djebel Rehal, 13 miles northeast of Oued Zerga.

Djebel Ahmar, known as Long Slope Hill to the British, was sold in skirmishes from the front to have been taken in armored fighting which developed east of Medjen-El-Bab yesterday.

PRESIDENT ORDERS STRIKE CALLED OFF

New Jersey Workers Ordered To Return by Monday.

WASHINGTON, April 24.—President Roosevelt today ordered strikers at the Celanese Corporation of America, Newark, N. J., to return to work immediately and gave them until noon Monday to comply.

Non-compliance by then, he said, will result in government steps to see to it that the plant is reopened.

Acting on the recommendation of the war labor board whose repeated appeals to the workers, members of the United Mine Workers district 50, to end their strike had failed, the President sent telegrams to President John L. Lewis of the UMW and four other union officials, demanding that picketing cease and the workers go back to work immediately.

IN REMEMBRANCE

Of Mother, Mrs. Mary Luella Markley, who died April 24, 1941. When the Evening Shadows Fall. When the evening shadows fall and my day's work is done, I sit and think of Mother, my best pal that is gone. The days and nights are dreary and they are hard for me to bear, but if the Lord is willing I will be with her up there where the trumpets sound their warning and the angels fly on high and I'll fly with her in the heavens up in the golden skies. The days and nights are dreary as I walk through life alone, thinking and longing for her to come back home. I sit and think of evenings of that long, long ago as we sat alone together and you rocked to and fro. Oh, Mother! how I miss you, only God alone can tell, and that longing, longing for the one I love so well. Down in that lonely graveyard, just a few short miles away, lies my grandest, dear old Mother, who has gone away to stay, for her days of work are over and her days on earth are done, and now she lies sleeping beneath that golden sun. And so I have that longing for that day to come when I, too, can be sleeping beneath that golden sun. Son, Earnest William Markley, 131 Blaine Ave., Marion, O.

loths which once did $4,000,000 a year in British business are German-controlled now. The paper security—there is a $400 fine for destroying paper—has cut sharply into catalog billboard and handbill advertising.

The shortage of workers has cut personnel costs, and it takes a considerably smaller mechanical force—therefore less expensive—to get out the present slender newspaper.

While the price of newsprint jumped to $128 a ton from $40 (compared with $54 in the United States now), a paper using 100 tons in 1939 paid $4,000 and now spends only $2,432 for the 19 tons it can get.

Costly circulation schemes, extra and special editions, delivery set-ups and the like were dropped or pooled with other publications. Demand is so great there is no loss on unsold papers. One London paper saves around $50,000 a week with discontinuance of a promotion plan used before the war.

In four years eight daily papers and one Sunday paper, all small, have ceased operation. In that period, incidentally, only one new publication has been started, the Stars and Stripes, run by the U. S. Army for American soldiers.

SEES MEAT LIMIT IN U.S. BY 1943

Capacity To Produce Will Be Reached Next Year.

By The Associated Press
WASHINGTON, April 24.—The United States will reach its maximum limit of its capacity to produce meat in 1943, in the opinion of Food Administrator Chester C. Davis.
Davis said indications were about 125,000,000 pigs would be slaughtered this year, or about 20,000,000 more than in 1942. Increases are indicated for other classes of livestock.
This year's production of feed may not exceed the 1942 output, the food administrator told a press conference yesterday. Because of this, and a dwindling reserve of feed supplies, the government may be forced to ask farmers to level off the production of hogs and cattle in 1943, he said.

Davis said he would be more optimistic about food production prospects if he could be sure of good weather during the growing season.
He reported farmers generally felt better over both the labor and agricultural machinery outlook than they did a few months ago.
Davis' powers were clarified yesterday in an executive order from President Roosevelt authorizing him and Agriculture Secretary Wickard to share their authority. The order empowers Davis and Wickard to perform each other's jobs in the food program.

TUNISIA RAIDERS LIVED IN CAVE. A group of American soldiers who were on the raid over Tunisia a year ago are grouped outside this shelter carved from the mountainside. They lived there for 10 days after assembling from their Chinese-made uniforms. The pictures showed nearby villages frequently.

German position between Medjer and El-Bab, Tunisia, dominates the road into Tebourba and is about 12 miles southwest of that crossroads on the coastal plain.

"North of Sbeitet El Kouriz, German fighting took place. The enemy was forced to withdraw and a number of his tanks were destroyed," the communique continued.

"In the northern sector American troops made successful attacks, capturing more than 100 prisoners. In several areas advances of many miles were made in difficult hill country."

Sbeitet El Kouriz is about nine miles northeast of Bou Arada, and about the same distance southeast of Goubellat.

In the Bou Arada-Medjer-El-Bab area the first army held its positions securely, despite the enemy counterattacks. It was said.

Allied air attacks were continued yesterday against enemy ground positions, airfields, motor transport and shipping, the communique said.

Two Ships Attack
Flying Fortresses attacked two motor vessels off the Sicilian coast and scored direct hits on one which was left burning.

Railway targets and motor transport at Meur were heavily attacked by medium bombers.

From all the air attacks the allied lost six planes, the communique said, while eight enemy planes were destroyed.

The fiercest offensive of the allied campaign in Tunisia took shape yesterday as British and American troops struck through three salients in an attempt to pierce the outer ring of axis defenses before Tunis and Bizerte.

In bloody Good Friday fighting with grenades and bayonets the British and American First Army under Lt. Gen. K. A. N. Anderson, crept behind a massed artillery barrage on the slopes of Long-Sap hill, 28 miles southwest of Tunis and another nearby hill-pass which guards the route from Medjer-El-Bab through Tebourba to the plain stretching toward Tunis.

Gen. Sir Bernard L. Montgomery's desert army at the same time moved ahead under cover of strong British artillery and machine gun and mortar fire.

The British moved on the coast land six miles north of Enfidaville, drawing the noose tighter around the axis forces.

First Army Infantry also drove forward three miles along a nine-mile wedge between Goubellat and Bou Arada against stubborn opposition to get within 34 miles of Tunis.

Enemy Resist Fiercely
(The Algiers radio said that enemy resistance was fierce but that the offensive continued to develop successfully and that east of Goubellat and Bou Arada a new advance had brought the allied troops to a point which opens the way to the plains.)

Long-Sap hill probably is the most heavily fortified axis position on the Tunisian front before the fortress cities of Tunis and Bizerte.

Montgomery's approach up the narrow coastal strip proceeded at a slower pace but the Berlin radio said the "mass attack" was "by no means abated in violence although it has lasted without interruption for four days," and declared Montgomery could replace tired troops "again and again by fresh and strong regiments and brigades."

Manufacturer Reveals Plans To Put More Life in New Ball; Fault Is Discovered, Corrected

By HAROLD CLAASSEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Just a few hours before Easter the major-league baseball players learned they would have a rabbit ball this season, after all. The announcement that the official ball would be revitalized came yesterday before the Philadelphia Athletics played the Boston Red Sox, 5 to 6—the surprise by the lowly Athletics being the only team surprising even the manufacturers but not influencing their decision.

The game, the only contest on the abbreviated Good Friday schedule, resulted in the eighth shutout in the 12 games played this spring. During that time there has been only one home run, in contrast to the six on the opening day of 1942.

Tom Coleman, vice president of A. G. Spaulding & Bros., said the present ball was dead because of the cement used to bind together the various layers of wool yarn and balata, wartime substitute for rubber.

The balata center is ok, he said, but the center became hard when it dried, making the ball as solid as a brick's first cake.

A new cement has been perfected and a pellet which will resemble the 1942 ball in ability will be ready in two weeks.

Despite grumblings and protest from various players it was a home-made experiment by Warren Giles, general manager of the Cincinnati Reds and a member of the committee which approved the new ball, that brought action.

Giles took a half dozen of 1943 balls and a similar number of 1942 pellets to the top of the stadium in Crosley field and dropped them, in pairs, to the concrete apron below. The groundkeeper, standing nearby, reported the 1943 models bounced only three-fourths as high as those of 1942.

The teams going back into action today with the Philadelphia Phillies and the Boston Braves hoping to make their belated inaugurals. The former comes to Brooklyn while the latter is host to the New York Giants.

Yesterday's lone ray, the A's, hopped on Joe Dobson for eight of their nine hits in the first six innings for four runs while Russ Christopher and Luman Harris combined to blank the Red Sox. Christopher started but was yanked in the eighth after issuing two consecutive walks.

First Shipment Of New Balls Faulty

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, April 24—The first shipment of the new 1943 baseballs employed in the major leagues has been found unsatisfactory but corrective steps already have been taken to provide a satisfactory ball within two weeks, Tom Coleman, vice president of A. G. Spaulding & Bros., the manufacturer, said yesterday.

Coleman made a formal announcement which was released through the office of Ford Frick, president of the National league. The 1943 ball has been under heavy fire from baseball men on the score that it appeared much deadlier than the ball used last year.

Coleman's statement said: "The official 1943 baseball as adopted by the major league committee is inherently satisfactory. The shipment of baseballs sent out for the opening of the season, unfortunately, did not measure up to standard. Investigations have been made and the reason discovered.

"In the manufacture of baseballs a layer of rubber cement is applied between layers of wool. Under war conditions this cement is made from re-processed rubber. The cement used on the baseballs turned out by the factory in recent shipments has proved of superior quality. Instead of providing resilience the cement hardened to a point where the wool was affected. This deadened the ball.

"This has now been corrected. A new type of cement has been adopted and accepted. Balls using this new cement are being manufactured and, in tests have met the major league qualifications. These balls will be shipped out as soon as possible and substituted for the balls now in use. That will take about two weeks. "We are confident that when the two weeks have elapsed we will have a supply of baseballs that will meet all requirements. Naturally we regret this occurrence—but it is one of the many wartime occurrences over which we have no control."

THEY SMILE AS PRETTILY AS THEY SWIM

The National A. A. A. Women's Indoor Swimming and Diving championships always abound in beauty and the recent meet in Chicago was no exception. The pretty mermaids are (left to right) Brenda Helser, Portland, Ore., 220-yard free style champion; Joan Fogle, Indianapolis, Ind., individual point champion; and Marilyn Sahner, New York City, who placed third in the 220 but lost her 100-yard free style title.

Ray Lantz was awarded a prize for top league single game of the year with 237 and Helen Dixon for the leading mark among the feminine rollers with 199.

BOUDREAU REACHES INTO GRAB BAG FOR TODAY'S PITCHER

Reds and Cards Will Try Again To Hit Past Second Base.

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, April 24—Manager Boudreau today has his first pitching change today and must dip into his grab bag for a mound choice in the third frame of the current series against the Detroit Tigers.

Among the available veterans, the Tribe's beltedman, Sam Vernon Kennedy and Gusy Dean, who could decide to try one of his rookies, Paul Gilbert, Alvin Reynolds, Ray Paul or Jack Salmons.

Boudreau eliminated Jim Bagby and Mike Mayack as possibilities by selecting them for duty in Sunday's double header with the Bengals. Mel Harder also is out as hurling choice. He will have had only two days' rest since his eight innings Thursday when the Tigers whitewashed the Tribe 4 to 0.

Al Smith probably will open the series with the Chicago White Sox Tuesday and Al Miller is nursing a sore infection.

In picking Bagby for Sunday's casting chores, Boudreau gives the right-hander only three days' rest between assignments. Bagby had easy going in blanking the Detroiters with three hits in the opener Wednesday.

CINCINNATI, April 24—Elmer Riddle and Harry Gumbert are the pitchers today as the Cincinnati Reds and the St. Louis Cardinals endeavor to slug the ball mightily as far as second base.

The Cardinals still have to score a run in the 1943 season, and if Elmer is industrious, there may be no improvement today. The teams took Good Friday off.

To accommodate war workers, the Reds are going to play their Monday, May 3, game with the Pittsburgh Pirates at 11:30 a. m. and the May 7 game with the Chicago Cubs at 5 p. m.

The Reds scheduled six exhibition games against the Army and Navy teams. The games: April 30, Navy team at Lambert field, St. Louis; May 11, Army at Fort Monmouth, N. J.; June 2, Army at Camp Atterbury, Ind.; June 8, Army at Fort Benjamin Harrison, Ind.; June 10, Navy at Great Lakes, Ill.; Aug. 4, Army at Fort Sheridan, Ill.

Illinois brought a sufficiently powerful sound of runners here to win both the sprint medley and distance medley events on yesterday's program.

The Illini captured the sprint event in 3:25.2, six and two-tenths seconds off the record, and took the distance affair in 10:18.6, compared with the Drake mark of 10:05.1.

Slam Jerry Thompson of the University of Texas dethroned Virgil Alston of Miami (O.) university, the 1942 champion, in the two-mile run. Thompson unleashed a burst of last lap speed to vanquish Alton by 30 yards. The time was 9:31.4.

Today's Guest Star—Lynn C. Doyle, Philadelphia Evening Bulletin: "The press notices the new 'clunk' ball has been getting won't help business. We must get hold of the first foul that works its way up to the press box and look for the 'made in Japan' label."

Franklin Field Filibuster—Lawson Robertson, Penn track coach, still is snooping around under the Franklin field stands hoping to find those eight vaulting poles he bought and hid away when he realizes there would be bamboo shortage.

M. P.—Meaning More Power—At least two guys in the army's military police department who can give extra use to the initials M. P.—here's Harvey Perick, the first big league hockey player to join the U. S. army, who just graduated from the M. P. officers' candidate school at Fort Huachuca, Mich., and Clayton Heafner, the Big Greensboro, N. C., golfer whose weight has shot up from 220 to about 250 since he's been in the army.

Tempus Fugit, Em? Times change and so do the Red Sox. . . . Win no Ted Williams or Dom DiMaggio to do the hitting in Thursday's opener against the Athletics. Manager Joe Cronin resorted to strategy when Pete Fox doubled to open the fourth inning. . . . Instead of figuring that three hitters would be sure to bring him around, Joe immediately figured to Bobby Roar to sacrifice. Well, it worked and Pete scored the only run of the game.

Service Dept.—Lieut. Benny Leonard of the maritime service is reported in line for promotion to Lieut. Commander soon. . . . Lieut. George (Blitzkrieg) Barr, one of the Tokyo raiders who may have died proving that the Japs haven't the guts to take what they dish out, was a member of the Northland college (Ashland, Wis.) basketball team and got his nickname because he was so hard to stop while Northland was winning 32 straight games in 1940.

Irish Eye New Track Record

By The Associated Press

PHILADELPHIA, April 24—Notre Dame's four-mile relay quartet expects to set a new world's record of 17-16 or better in the Penn relays at Franklin field today—if only the track is right.

"We have ambitions along that line," asserted Al Handy, coach of the Irish scumy-clad, who romped off with two triumphs—the distance medley relay and the two-mile run—in yesterday's opening competition in the annual track extravaganza.

"If the track is okay," Handy said, "I believe the boys are ready and can do it. The track was slow Friday, but I think the overnight rolling will put it in better shape."

The present world and relay carnival record for the four mile is 17:16.2 established in 1937 by the Indiana university quartet M. Trullis, J. Smith, The Decker and Don Lash.

The Notre Dame four aim to wipe out that mark as comp of Frank Conforti and Anti Maloney, both of New York; Ham "Benny" Leonard of Cleveland, and Ollie Hunter of Pa. Conforti will run the mile followed by Maloney, Lard and Hunter.

Already this year, Hu pointed out, Conforti has done 4:15.7 mile, Maloney 4:17.2, Lard 4:20.3 and himself 4:1 which adds up to a light 17:09.2.

GO TO CHURCH SUNDAY

A CHURCH NEEDS YOU—YOU NEED A CHURCH

THIS IS A SCENE FROM "RANDOM HARVEST," which stars Greer Garson and Ronald Colman. Adapted from James Hilton's best-selling novel, the film is a memorable and suspenseful love story. It will play at the Palace theater Sunday through Thursday.

'Random Harvest' To Be On Palace Screen Five Days

Ronald Colman and Greer Garson Starred in Film Version of James Hilton Novel.

Ronald Colman and Greer Garson, teamed for the first time, provide romance and a dramatic story in "Random Harvest," screen presentation of James Hilton's best-selling novel, to be shown on the Palace theater screen Sunday through Thursday.

Closely following the book, except that the story is told in chronological order instead of in "flashbacks," it deals with a wealthy Englishman who loses all memory of his past during the first World war. He is befriended by a young actress, she starts life anew and wins note as a writer. They marry. Then in an accident his memory of the past comes back, but memory of the space after the war vanishes. He assumes his old identity and becomes a powerful figure in industry. The wife, realizing that she now is a stranger to him, comes his secretary, never mentioning their marriage, and begins the task of winning back his memory and love. This is accomplished in a romantic climax.

Miss Garson wears elaborate fashions as well as an abbreviated stage costume. Other stars featured in the cast include Susan Peters, Philip Dorn, Reginald Owen and Una O'Connor.

Friday and Saturday, "Something To Shout About" with Don Ameche, Janet Blair and Jack Oakie will appear on the Palace screen.

Miss Blair appears as a would-be songwriter from Altona, Pa., who gets "discovered" by a press agent, Ameche. Ameche, in turn, "sells" her to a Broadway producer, William Gaxton, and Gaxton, while taking her songs, tries to ease her into the starring role of his newest show, which is headed for certain failure because his leading lady is a young woman of no talent beyond the possession of a million or so dollars. Eventually the "star" walks out, taking with her the costumes and the scenery, for which she has paid, and leaving behind little more than an empty theater and an unpleasant memory.

Gaxton promptly proceeds on a bender. Ameche and Oakie, an ex-vauvillain with a boarding house filled with other ex-vauvillains, promptly try something new for Broadway—a vaudeville show! Cobina Wright Jr. and Hazel Scott also appear in the show. Cole Porter penned the new hit tunes for the picture.

Extra Gas Allowed for Victory Gardeners. By The Associated Press. WASHINGTON, April 24.—OPA Administrator Preston M. Brown today authorized up to 300 miles of additional gasoline rations to victory gardeners who must travel to distant points.

The extra rations, which must be obtained from local boards, are limited to persons regularly cultivating a tract of 1,500 square feet or more of vegetables. In addition, the gardeners must show they must drive to get to the plots, and must promise to share their cars with other gardeners as far as possible.

The maximum of 300 miles extra rations would mean 20 gallons of gasoline, and would be good for six months.

friends the Indians and breaks up a marriage for the heroine whom he later wins. Coming Thursday through Saturday are "Riding Through Nevada" with Charles Laughton and "Truck Busters" featuring Richard Travis, Ed Cobb and Don Costello. The former concerns the adventures of a government agent as while tracking down a band of U. S. Mail thieves. "Truck Busters" is a dramatization of the work America's truck drivers do.

Pitfalls of Love

By ADELE GARRISON

JACK was so disturbed at my bursting in upon him that his usual iron nerve appeared to have deserted him, and his hand trembled as he held it out for my father's message.

He kept his eyes averted from mine, but something in his manner gave me the impression that it was not anger at my intrusion which moved him. Was it possible that subconsciously he had been wishing his self-imposed barrier might be broken, and that Katharine might come to him in forgiving reunion?

But even so, I knew his fear for Katharine's safety would spur him to battle against her coming to the hideaway. This was confirmed when at last he looked at me with eyes stony in their obstinacy.

Appeals to Jack

"Your father requests that I do as you ask," he said. "Of course I know the request you are bringing, but that can wait. First, I want to know how you found out I was here."

"I did not know for a long time," I said. "Father told me you had left the hideaway, but not that you had returned, and the tortures of the damned are nothing to the suffering to which your silence has condemned Katharine."

His face was suddenly constricted with pain, but his eyes still were adamant.

"I am truly sorry," he said, "but better that than for me to put her in deadly peril by letting her join me. But how did you find out about my return?"

YOUR HEALTH

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

Maternal Protection

One hundred years ago on Feb. 19, 1843, a young man named Dr. Oliver Wendell Holmes read a paper before the Boston Society for Mutual Improvement. In this paper he called attention to the condition which was known as childbed fever, which afflicted women about four days after the birth of a child and had an appalling mortality.

In nearly any community in the civilized portions of the United States, which was then the Atlantic seaboard, the mortality was at least 10 percent of all women bearing children, attended by physicians; in some communities it was as high as 50 percent.

The doctors preferred to ascribe it to an accident or to an act of God. Dr. Holmes stated in very clear and specific terms that it was due to filth that the doctors carried on their hands, which contaminated the medical profession, and young Dr. Holmes (who was only 34) was attacked with great vituperation; he stuck to his guns, however, and stated: "The disease known as puerperal fever is so far contagious as to be frequently carried from patient to patient by physicians and nurses." He also quoted the words of Gordon Abernethy, who said: "I could venture to foretell what women would be affected with the disease by hearing by what midwife or nurse they were to be attended during their lying-in."

This is one of the first suggestions of the principle of preventive asepsis which is now such a commonplace in every department of medicine, surgery and obstetrics.

Somewhat later a young man in Vienna named Semmelweis, who was an attendant at the Maternity hospital, found a woman in his ward crying. He asked her the reason and she said it was because she had been sent to his ward, that she would rather go to the ward of the midwives because they had fewer deaths from sepsis.

He then investigated and found that the students in his ward came directly from the post-mortem room and examined the women in the maternity ward without washing their hands. He instituted preventive methods by making them wash their hands and rinse them in a solution of chloride of lime, following which his mortality dropped to the unheard-of level of 1.25 percent.

The centenary was celebrated this year in New York by the Maternity Center Association with dignified and appropriate ceremonies. It was pointed out that today in the United States the percentage of women who have babies and who contract this disease is .001 per cent (8,000 out of more than 2,000,000 cases).

Every mother in the country, indeed every mother in the world should pay grateful homage this year to Oliver Wendell Holmes. He said: "I do not know that I shall ever again have so good an opportunity of being useful as was granted me by the raising of the question which produced this essay." To his detractors he said: "I take no offense and attempt no retort. No man makes a quarrel with me over the counterpane that covers a mother, with her newborn infant at her breast!"

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

G.R.A.: The Navy has rejected me because I have extra systoles. I am 42. What causes them and can they be eliminated? The Navy doctor told me that they did not disappear after exercise. What would that mean?

Answer: Extra systoles are extra beats of the heart, forming a very common type of irregularity of the pulse. In most instances they are harmless and meaningless. Sometimes, however, they indicate a mild disease of the heart muscle. In most cases they disappear after exercise; in cases where they do indicate a heart muscle disease, they do not disappear after exercise.

W. C.: Should a person suffering from high blood pressure and who has had several paralytic strokes be affected adversely by taking from three to six drops of Vitamin B1 for a short period?

Answer: No.

a door accidentally left ajar the last time I was at the hideaway," I said him, but I did not tell my father until after I had begged him to tell Katharine your whereabouts. He agreed, and she now knows you are here, by my father says you alone must decide about her coming down to see you. He is willing to have her come, but you are the one most deeply concerned. However, he asked me to read the note he had written to you, so I know he has advised you to grant Katharine's plea."

"I wish I could," Jack exclaimed, his voice raucous with torture, "but I don't dare to let her come down here."

"Jack," I said slowly, knowing how Katharine was depending on me, "do you realize what you are doing to Katharine by this determination not to see her? She knows you are in New York, and that only your own dithering is keeping her from you. And she can interpret that in only one way—that you would let that wilderness woman share your dangers, but will not permit your wife to come to your aid."

Jack's Pride Stung

If I had not known Jack so well I would have shrunk back in terror at the look on his face. He straightened as if pricked with a stiletto, and I believe that never in his life had he felt so strong an impulse to strike a woman.

"What do you mean by that speech?" he demanded hoarsely.

"Exactly what I said," I retorted. "Katharine knows that all through the years that wilderness woman has shared your work and your hardships."

"Not mine," Jack declared flatly, and there was the ring of truth in his voice. "She came out there originally on account of her brother. She is devoted to him."

"And stayed on account of you," I told him, with an edge in my voice.
